Saturday, November 30. 1706.

Hague, November 23.

The 7th of last Month, the Minister of Portugal presented the following Memorial to the States.

High and Mighty Lords,

NOT many Days ago, the underwritten Envoy, deliver'd to your High Mightinesses a Letter from the most serene and potent King of Portugal his most gracious Master, in which he acquainted you, that the Archbishop of Cranganor Don John Ribeiro, being about to take possession of that Archbishoprick, which borders upon the District of the City of Cochin, the Directors of the Dutch East-India Company forbid the Catholics inhabiting within that Archbishoprick to pay him due Obedience, and publish'd a Placard to that purpose importing divers Penalties against those who should act otherwise. Now seeing this Method of Proceeding is not only repugnant to the Right and Custom the Crown of Portugal is possess'd of, namely that the Archbishops nominated by his sacred royal Majesty should be admitted to the Exercise of their Function and Jurisdiction; but that 'tis likewise contrary to Reason and Equity, that the East-India-Company should admit into their Dominions and Parts adjoining Italian, Flemish and French Missionaries, as they actually do, tho' their Nations are at War with your Republick, and that at the same Time a lawful Prelate should be excluded from his Diocesi, notwithstanding he be the Vassal of a Prince who is not only your Friend, and maintains a perfect good Intelligence with your High Mightinesses, but by Virtue of a Treaty with you is engag'd in a Confederacy against those Princes whose Missionaries are not refus'd by the said Directors; seeing likewise, that by the said Archbishop's being allow'd the Exercise of his Jurisdiction no Manner of Prejudice would arise to your High Mightinesses or to the foresaid Company, either in relation to the Preservation of Dominion or the Increase of Trade, and that no Reasons are given, either true or colourable, why such Placards should be publish'd against the Jurisdiction of the said Archbishop; the underwritten Envoy desires your High Mightinesses, to send by the first Ships bound for Ceylon an Order to the foresaid Directors, to suffer the said Archbishop to exercise his Function, and thereby satisfy the just Complaints of his Sacred Royal Majesty the King his Master.

Hague, October 7. 1706.

Sign'd,

F. de Sousa Pacheco.

The States resolv'd, that a Copy of this Memorial should be communicated to the Chamber of the East-India Company of Amsterdam, for them to make a Report thereon to their High Mightinesses.

EDINBURGH.

Minutes of the Proceedings in Parliament, Saturday Nov. 29. Several Addresses of Towns and Parishes were given in and read; all against an Union with England in the Terms of the Articles. Thereafter the 5th Article of Union again read, with the Proposal insert in the former Days Minuts bearing this Amendment (in place of after the Union, after the first of May next.) And after reasoning thereon, a second Proposal was given in, viz. That all Ships or Vessels belonging to the Subjects of Scotland at the Time of Ratifying the Treaty in the Parliaments of both Kingdoms should be deemed of the Built of Britain. And after some Debate, the Vote was stated, approve of the first Paragraph of the 5th Article with the first Amendment, or second, and it carried approve with the first. Thereafter the rest of the said Article was read, and an additional Clause given, in these Terms, 'That for the Space of 7 Years after the Union its expressly agreed, that no Seamen aboard any Scot's Ships shall either at home or abroad be press'd from on board their Ships, to serve in any of Her Majesty's Ships; and in case there be a Levy of Seamen in united Britain, that the Part thereof now called Scotland shall only bear such a proportion as their Taxes are in proportion with England; but Prejudice to Officers or Masters of Ships to engage as many Volunteer Seamen as they can agree with in this Part of the united Kingdom; and this to be be unalterable by any subsequent British Parliament, Which being read, after some reasoning thereon, it was put to the Vote, add the second Clause or nor, and it carried not. Thereafter the Remainder of the said 5th Article being again read, the Vote was put approve thereof or not, and it carried approve. Then the Parliament was adjourn'd till Tuesday next at 10 a Clock.
